Robotics

The 2017 FIRST Robotics challenge is called FIRST STEAMWORKS. The team gathered in January for the game reveal and then began the exciting process of designing and building this year's robot.

This years robot will need to collect gears and place them on a spring for a human player to bring up into the airship. The robot also will need to collect balls that represent fuel and shoot them into a boiler to generate steam pressure. Finally the robot will have to climb a rope so it is ready for take off.

Team 1153 has worked tirelessly over many nights and weekends and hopes to build upon the success of the previous fifteen seasons.

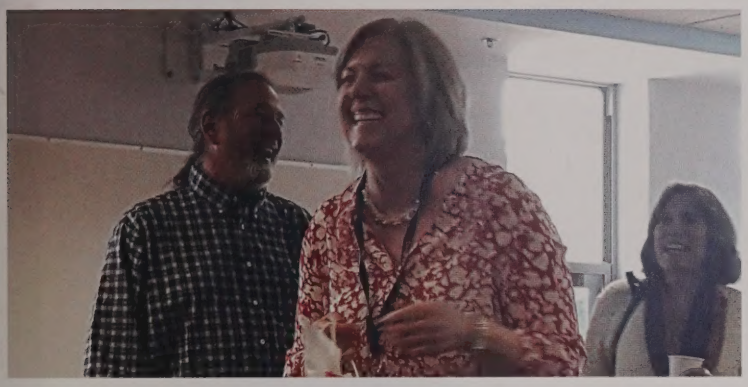
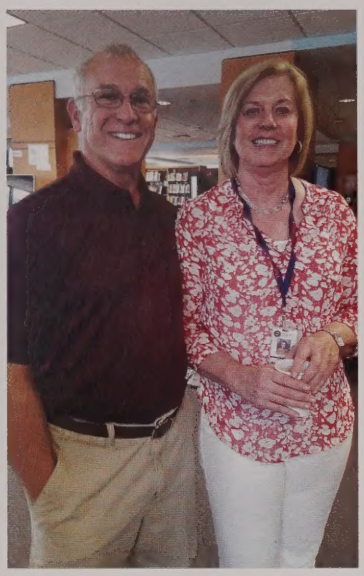
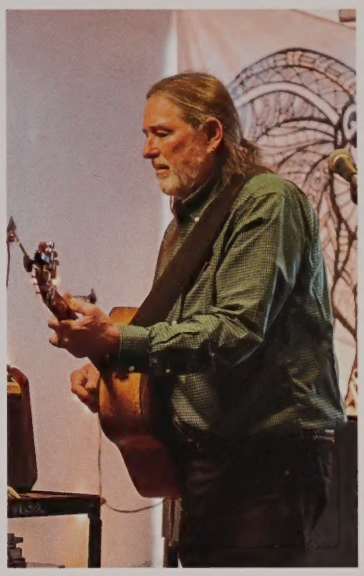
Mrs. Janet Ferrara

Mr. William Powers







Walpole High School would like to thank Mrs. Janet Ferrara and Mr. William Powers for their dedication to the students of Walpole. Their talent and enthusiasm will be greatly missed. Wishing you both all the best in your journey from here!

In Memoriam: Mr. Edward Leitz

Walpole High school lost a beloved educator in Mr. Edward Leitz this school year. A member of the WHS Science Department since 2004, Mr. Leitz taught Biology, and his personal specialty, Marine Science. Mr. Leitz loved nature, fishing, and being with his family. He will be missed and fondly remembered by the students and faculty alike.

One important thing I learned in high school, probably the most important, is to be kind. I know you've heard it before. But in the wor we live in today, we are surrounded by and witness a superfluity of hatred everyday. It is essential that we do our part in this world, wherever we may end up, to promote kindness. It is what brings peop together and helps us accomplish new and amazing things. Many of u saw this in our dear classmate, Tommy Quinn, who would have been graduating with us today. Although I did not know Tommy very well could tell that his kindness was infectious, and something that all of u should aspire to look up to. Thank you Tommy for showing how kindness is what helps us not only make incredible friends, but also make a difference in someone's life.

Another thing I'd like to shed light on is how although we have o whole lives ahead of us, we in fact have very little time. If high school went by this fast, just imagine how quickly our lives will pass us by. L I mentioned before, I urge all of you to go after whatever dreams or passions that you have, because we cannot waste time in life. Again, I know it's a cliche, but it's true. Many of us this year witnessed a true miracle of how Anthony Conti fought for not only his life, but his passion in the time that he had left. This is someone who, while battl cancer, found a way to bring his talents to life and become an accomplished filmmaker. He showed us how important it is to accomplish our dreams before it is too late, and to never take our live for granted.

And it is for this reason that I leave you with this—a quote from the longtime music teacher at Walpole High School, Mr. Falker. In o of his last notes to his students before his retirement, he wrote the following: "I hope you all eventually find true personal happiness. Nothing else really matters." And he was right. And I wish you all the same.
